

WHOLE OCEAN CLAMS

Wakame Salad with Whole Ocean Clams, this and other great clam recipes available at SeaWatch.com

SEA WATCH WHOLE OCEAN CLAMS

Sea Watch Whole Ocean Clams are processed from the Ocean Quahog Clam (Arctica islandica). We take the foot muscle from the rest of the body meat and remove the belly cavity. This leaves us with the largest solid muscle of the clam. The clams are blanched and canned in a flavorful top off of juice. These clams come out of the can fully cooked and ready to use. They are great where a visual impact is desired such as salads, sauces, stir fry, casinos and on and on. They can be used in place of fresh clams at one third the cost.

Great Flavor Ready to Use
Great Clam Identity Profitable Protein
Tender Texture High in Iron and Selenium
Tremendous Versatility Low in Fat and Cholesterol
Shelf Stable
Affordable Substitute for Fresh Clams
